There's No Place Like Home

July 12, 2018– July 14th, 2018: Join us for the 23rd Annual Currier and Ives Dinnerware Collectors Club Convention in St. Louis, Missouri

This year's spectacular event will be hosted at the beautiful South County Holiday Inn, 6921 South Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63125. Phone: (314) 892-3600. Room rates: $122.00 per night, includes breakfast. Hosted by Sandy Schilling-Gal and serving as liaison, Tim Merli.

In August of 1996, the CURRIER & IVES DINNERWARE COLLECTORS club was established to unite avid collectors of Royal China.

Membership ranges from the beginning collector to members who have been collecting for forty-five years or more. Three members have written books on CURRIER & IVES dinnerware and Royal China, while others travel extensively to locate "hard to find" pieces and discover new information about Royal China.

The collectors hold a convention once a year at various locations across the country. Events of the annual gathering include dinnerware displays, an auction, show and tell, buy/sell/trade, contests, luncheon and dinner, a business meeting and, of course, lots of fun. All members are encouraged to attend and bring items from their collection. .

The Convention has a unique theme this year that will celebrate "There's No Place Like Home" with a Wizard of OZ theme , which includes a costume contest, pie/cake baking contest, table scape judging, games and prizes, including a photo booth with props.
